

RECREATION PAYMENT TERMINAL

Quick and easy payment for port fees or camping fees

Collecting port fees in a marina is a time consuming task. Operators spend much time collecting the money, causing their other work to suffer under the time pressure, and they can focus less on the boaters visiting the marina.

This same problem occurs at small campsites where a camping fee must be paid. Managers aren't available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to collect the fees, with the possibility that they miss revenue.

Easy to pay

TMC, the largest supplier of parking terminals in the Netherlands, brings years of experience with the Strada parking meter to the marina and campsites. It offers the best solution to relieve the operators or managers.

Equipped with debit card, credit card and / or coin payment options, the recreation payment terminal offers unprecedented ease of use. The machine is available 24/7, so visitors upon can pay their port or camping fees upon arrival. This gives the marina manager or operator more time for welcoming guests or managing the facilities.

- No cash in circulation at the operators
- Available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week

Pay per actual boat length

As many marina managers may know, boat owners are always in doubt when asked for their boat length; on average between 8 and 15% of the boat length is lied. Often not even on purpose, they just don't know the actual length.

By smart software connections of the payment terminal, the boat owner can select his boat details on the terminal, based on the brand and type of his boat. Lying about the boat length is a thing of the past, and it's more easy to use for de boat owners as well.

A true eye-catcher

The payment terminal can simply be placed in the best accessible location, even on the boat jetty for example. The modern techniques go beyond the bright and crisp color display. The payment terminal offers much more possibilities. It can also serve as an information or advertising point, for example for couponing.

The recreation payment terminal is much cheaper than comparable, competitive systems, and when fully wrapped in full-color print it will be a true eye-catcher at every marina or campsite.
